Introduction

The fourth Annual Report of the Fulbright New Zealand Alumni Association Inc highlights the achievements and continued progress made during the 2012 - 2013 year. Key developments highlighted in the report are:

- an increase in membership to 225 with 45 members now committed to multi-year memberships;
- arranging 23 alumni events and facilitating invitations to a number of events arranged by other organisations;
- providing opportunities for 26 alumni to share their thinking in forums with the public and/or professional communities of interest;
- increasing interaction between alumni and current grantees through the expansion of the home stay programme that provided 43 “bed nights” and additional welcome dinners for incoming US grantees;
- arranging six Fulbright lectures as part of a planned full programme of lectures nationally;
- continuing the support for the alumna-initiated programme Fulbright Reflections and expanding it to be held in three regions, Wellington, Otago/Southland and Auckland;
- distributing members’ newsletters; and
- nominating three alumni for Sir Peter Blake Leadership awards. One of these was also nominated for the New Zealander of the Year Local Hero and Young New Zealander of the Year awards.

The Association continues to benefit significantly from the services of a part-time alumni coordinator based at the office of Fulbright New Zealand.

The Association continues to face challenges in becoming self-sustainable and continues to rely on grant funding from the US Department of State and support from Fulbright New Zealand. This goal as stated in the alumni outreach strategy 1 October 2012 to 30 September 2013 has not been achieved through paid membership and so a major strategy shift in 2014 will focus on gaining sponsorship, further grants and establishing other funding sources.

In summary, the Association has continued to sustain opportunities for alumni to “give back” what they have gained from their Fulbright and associated exchange programmes.

Difficulties around maintaining alumni coordination and activity in regions with smaller numbers of alumni has been noted during 2013. The Board has made the decision that where coordinators are not forthcoming in the areas where there are smaller numbers of alumni (Waikato and Central North Island) that the neighbouring regional coordinator will take over activity.

Chairperson's Report

It gives me pleasure to present the fourth annual report of the Fulbright New Zealand Alumni Association. This is my first annual report having been chairperson for a year now and I have learned a great deal along the way. I am now even more committed to the progress of the organisation and it has been incredible to work with such a talented group of people.

Acting Chair person, Toni Moyes ably lead the organisation for the second half of the financial year whilst I was out of the country on business. It was a pleasure to receive her enthusiastic updates and hear the latest on news and events. Toni was supported by Siobhan O'Kane, Auckland regional coordinator and deputy chair who made a remarkable positive impact over a relatively short period of time.

The Association was extremely lucky this year to have the continued support of Immediate Past Chair, Graham Cochrane. The executive has appreciated his gentle guidance and enthusiasm and we hope to have his support for some time to come.

This report summarises the continuation of work to build an Association characterised by a strong, vibrant network of people who will continue to promote the Fulbright programme aim...“to bring a little more knowledge, a little more reason, and a little more compassion into world affairs and thereby to increase the chance that nations will learn to live in peace and friendship.”

23 FNZAA events have taken place across the country this year. The association continues to build on its theme of supporting events initiated by alumni themselves. This has been proved through the continuance of the Fulbright Reflections programme and its expansion to events held in both Auckland and Dunedin. Dunedin also benefitted from a Science Communication forum held in partnership with the Otago Museum.

A total of 9 events were open to the public and 26 alumni took the opportunity to share their thought leadership in public forums. This is consistent with Fulbright New Zealand's goal of promoting alumni as thought leaders and increasing the public profile of the Fulbright programme.

The home stay programme was again a great success. The exceptional hospitality provided by local alumni meant that the homestay programme was extended to include family dinners provided by Wellington alumni on the evening of orientation. Alumni provided over 40 “bed nights” in their homes for incoming US grantees and again feedback indicates this has been a significant help to incoming grantees and in establishing longer term support and relationships.

Increased use of the FNZAA Facebook page found at www.facebook.com/fnzaa this year has resulted in better more instant communication with alumni. The page has over doubled its followers to 180 from just 84 at the end of last financial year.

Towards the end of 2012 I was fortunate to be able to make a tour of the regions to engage in planning meetings with Regional Co-ordinators and attend local events to meet with local alumni. I commend the work of all of our Regional Coordinators who volunteer many hours of time to provide events, activities and communication between our members. I also applaud the work of the executive committee and in particular would like to highlight the dedication of our Treasurer Ben Gerritsen and Secretary Elizabeth Forbes-Blom who have both served as members of the executive through the set up phase of the Association and right through the four years of its existence. We will be sad to see them both go from the executive but look forward to seeing them at future events.

The membership base has continued to increase over the last year although we did not achieve our internal goals for increasing membership. The proposed shift to a free membership model will open membership to all alumni.

The importance of the Alumni Coordinator role has been highlighted over the past year as an absolute asset to the organization. An agreement has been reached with Fulbright New Zealand to continue making an annual financial contribution to the coordinator's position for 2013-2014 but that the contract will now be with the Association.

The Association has continued to benefit from US Department of State grants through the US Embassy. A generous grant from the US Department of State was again received for alumni-initiated activities funding Fulbright Reflections, Fulbright Lectures and Thought Leaders events through to April 2013.

The Association has continued to enjoy strong support from Mele Wendt, Andy Mitchell, the team at Fulbright New Zealand and the Fulbright New Zealand Board - Helen Anderson too was of great support when I started the role earlier this year. As well as the substantial funding for the alumni coordinator and supporting her in her work they have provided sound advice, use of facilities, and practical support for events and the home stay programme. The US Embassy has also provided support and advocacy for the Association. These relationships contribute significantly to the capacity for the Association to serve alumni interests.

It is an honour to serve in this role over the past year and I am deeply appreciative to all of those who have supported me.

The Board has provided a coordinated approach to developing policies as well as building a programme of events across the country.

Executive

An executive committee comprising the chairperson, secretary and treasurer has the role of administering and managing the Association between board meetings, and providing support for the regional coordinators.

The Executive Committee met in Wellington on 4 October 2012, 5 March 2013 and 7 May 2013 (no quorum).

Alumni Coordinator

Vicky Beckett continued the role of Alumni Coordinator through 2012/2013. Her position is contracted through Fulbright New Zealand until 27 September 2013 for approximately 12 hours a week. Her position is substantially funded by Fulbright New Zealand with the remaining amount coming from member subscriptions. The Association is very grateful to Fulbright New Zealand for their support.

The role of coordinator is vital to the smooth operation and coordination of the Association's activities and the Association is grateful to Vicky for her efficient and professional services.

Membership

The Association had 225 individual alumni and associate members, at 30 June 2013. The individual members comprised 133 who paid a subscription and 92 with free membership for the first year after their awards. Multi year memberships have increased from 37 to 45.

Building an Active Alumni Network

The Association is organised into six New Zealand regions (Auckland, Waikato, Central North Island, Wellington, Canterbury and Otago-Southland) and two US regions (Midwest and New England).

Each region has a coordinator supported by deputies or coordination groups to arrange alumni activities and networking in their regions. The coordinators and their teams are the drivers of activities in their regions and the Association has been fortunate to have the voluntary services of an outstanding group of people who have shown commitment and creativity in their role.

Home stay Programme

For the fourth consecutive year the FNZAA worked in partnership with Fulbright New Zealand to extend the welcome to incoming US Fulbright grantees by offering alumni home stays in January/February. All incoming grantees were offered home stays with alumni on arrival in New Zealand and also for one night as part of their orientation programme. This year incoming grantees not requiring an overnight stay were also offered dinner with alumni and their families. As a result, the Association was able to arrange eight home stays for 4-6 nights (including some airport greetings) on arrival for grantees in Wellington and an additional nine dinners for alumni and their families on one evening during orientation week.

This was an outstanding response. The FNZAA is very grateful to all alumni who provided accommodation and hospitality and made this programme so successful.

Alumni-initiated activities

The Association continues to encourage alumni to initiate their own projects and activities with support from a US Department of State grant.

The Fulbright Reflections were again held in Wellington where nine alumni presented. The programme was also extended to Auckland and Dunedin this year. Auckland benefitted from a partnership with the Wallace Arts Trust. The inaugural Science Communications forum was held in partnership with the Otago Museum during July 2012.

Fulbright Lecture series

With generous support from a US Department of State grant this programme provides the opportunity for high profile alumni to speak at each of the main University centres. In October 2012 Professor Douglas Pratt addressed lecture halls at Auckland University, Canterbury University and Otago University. A proposal from American James McCormick to present lectures during his return visit to New Zealand was eagerly accepted by us and so in November 2012 he presented at the University of Waikato, Massey University at its Palmerston North Campus and Victoria University of Wellington.

The inaugural alumni reception

In November 2012 the US Ambassador invited Wellington based alumni to a reception at his home. Attendees enjoyed viewing the art work and stunning décor in his Lower Hutt residence along with the fabulous grounds. There was also plenty of networking and sharing of stories. The event was such a success that it is hoped to be repeated annually.

Activities

Through the hard work of the coordination teams there were 23 events involving members, alumni and the public throughout the country between 1 July 2012 and 30 June 2013. Attendances ranged from about 6 at local networking receptions in the regions with smaller numbers of alumni to 130 at a Fulbright Lecture. In addition, invitations were received to a number of other lectures and receptions arranged by other organisations including Fulbright New Zealand.

Each region continues to develop its own preferences for events that meet the needs and interests of their members. Activities have increasingly involved alumni displaying thought leadership in public arenas.

We would particularly like to thank those people who have offered out their homes to host alumni receptions; including the Ambassador in Wellington, the consul general in Auckland, Gillian Reid in Auckland and Jenny Horsley in Wellington.

National

- The last annual meeting was held in Wellington on 28 August 2012.
- To mark the 65th anniversary year of Fulbright New Zealand all alumni including FNZAA members were invited to the Fulbright New Zealand Annual Awards Ceremony and Alumni Reception at the Beehive, Parliament on 25 June 2013, this was arranged by Fulbright New Zealand. Following the event FNZAA members were invited to get together for dinner at a local restaurant.

Financial Report

The Association has completed its fourth financial year in a sound financial position. The Association has cash funds at 30 June 2013 of $28,257, with current liabilities of $13,534 relating to unexpended conditional grants and an audit fee. The remaining cash available for use comes from multi-year membership subscriptions and operating surpluses from past financial years.

Expenditure on alumni projects has continued to increase, from $5,163 in 2011/12 to $13,728 in 2012/13. This is encouraging and reflects the significant number of events and activities organised by the Association's regional coordinators. Administration costs have also increased over the past financial year. While the Association's grant income has increased, total income has fallen slightly due to lower subscription revenues. This has led to the Association recording an operating deficit of $4,119 for the year ended 30 June 2013.

A proposal has been made to change the Association's financial model to move away from charging membership subscriptions and refocus the efforts of the Alumni Coordinator on raising grant revenue. This proposal will be discussed at the Association's Annual Board Meeting and Annual General Meeting in November 2013. From a financial perspective, the proposal is supported by the recent trends of falling subscription revenues, higher administration costs, and increasing levels of grant funding described above. The cash reserves available to the Association also provide some resilience against the risk that new sources of grant funding may not be available, although the cash reserves will need to be carefully managed.

Fulbright New Zealand Alumni Association Incorporated

Notes to the Financial Statements

1) Reporting Entity

Fulbright New Zealand Alumni Association Incorporated is the reporting entity. It was incorporated on 19 October 2009.

The principal activity of the Association is to celebrate and promote international educational exchange by connecting Fulbright and associated international exchange alumni with each other; supporting the mission of Fulbright NZ and current grantees; and raising awareness of the aims of the Fulbright programme.

The financial statements cover the period 1 July 2012 to 30 June 2013. They were authorized for issue by the executive on 31 July 2013.

2) Basis of Preparation

Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with NZ GAAP. They comply with NZ equivalents to NZ IFRS and other applicable Financial Reporting Standards, as appropriate for public benefit entities that qualify for and apply differential reporting concessions. The Association qualifies for differential reporting exemptions as it has no public accountability and it is small in terms of the size criteria specified in the Framework for Differential Reporting. All available reporting exemptions have been adopted.

Basis of Measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis.

Presentation Currency

The financial statements are presented in NZ dollars.

3) Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements.

Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are measured at their cost less impairment losses.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are stated at cost.

Revenue

The Association's activities are supported by grants, members' subscriptions and interest from bank deposits. Grants received that are subject to conditions are initially recognised as a liability and revenue is recognised only when the services are performed or conditions are fulfilled. Subscriptions from members are recognised as income when received.

Taxation

The Association is not GST registered. It is liable for income taxation.

Changes in Accounting Policies

There have been no changes in accounting policies during the year.

	28,257	29,577

5) Prior Period Adjustment

The Association is not and has never been GST registered. An accounting error in past periods had GST being imputed into some payments, and the GST recorded as a receivable on the balance sheet. This course of action meant that costs were understated. The receivable balance of $2,414 was booked in the Statement of Movements in Equity last financial year and labelled a prior period adjustment. No refund of GST was ever sought from the Inland Revenue Department.

6) Related Parties

Mele Wendt, Executive Director of the NZ US Educational Foundation, and David Edginton, board member of the NZ US Educational Foundation, are both ex-officio members of the Fulbright NZ Alumni Association's board. The NZ US Educational Foundation is supporting the Alumni Association by providing up to $10,000 per annum for the Association's Alumni Coordinator. This financial year the NZ US Educational Foundation provided $12,909 (2012: $3,646).

7) Income Taxation

The Association is liable for income taxation. In the past the Association has stated (in error) that it was not liable for income tax. The Association has filed nil income taxation returns in the past. It has not provided for income taxation this year.

8) Other

The Association has no operating lease commitments, no capital commitments, and no contingent liabilities at balance date (2012: nil). There have been no material events subsequent to balance date that would result in adjustment to or disclosure in these financial statements.
